—there are many little things that were once perhaps largely sentimental, but which are now regarded almost as patriotic duties. One of these is the display of the Stars and Stripes. Over the porch of every American home, in the hand of every American man, woman and child and in every place of entertainment —yea, in every place where people gather, that Flag, first made by Betty Ross, should be found next Wednesday. The price need not deter you; for instance:

Handsome flags on stained staves with gilded spear heads, not bunting, but made of good material in one piece, dyed both sides and warranted not to fade.

Former Fourth
12x18 inches,..... 30c 20c
14x36 inches,..... 40c 30c
34x48 inches,..... 11.00 65c

Flags for hoisting with:
out staff, 5 ft. x 9 ft. 1.75

Large bunting flag, double seams on each stripe, nine feet in size, great value $2.00—and little flags on sticks at 5c, 10c, 15c, 20c, 25c and 30c down.

And you will be taking photos on the Fourth and you will want to preserve them. None can supply you with photo books better than we can, and at prices from 25c up.

TOWNE TALKS TO THE LEAGUE.Small Attendance at the Second Day's Session.

Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wires
KANSAS CITY, July 2.—The second session of the Monetary League began in the Auditorium today with light attendance. B. F. Heath of North Carolina read a paper in which he denounced imperialism and militarism, and advocated the nomination of Bryan and Tilden.

Hon. Charles A. Towne was introduced as "the man who President Bryan received as his address was." Some representatives of the Republican party, he said, as the parent of the greenback, and the greenback has been done to death in the House where it was born. In other words, the Republican party, in its present form, is against the people. The Republican party, against public interests, has driven thousands, of whom the speaker was one, out of the party.

A SPECIAL TRAIN

Pleasanton about 10 p.m. This will give you plenty of time to go and enjoy everything but dry and exciting.

PREPARING FOR A CONVENTION.The Republican Committee Holds Preliminary Meeting.

The Republican County Central Committee of Alameda county met this afternoon in Judge Quinn's Court.

The members of the Committee are: First Ward, W. W. Morrison; Second Ward, A. H. Breed; Third Ward, George E. Randolph; Fourth Ward, B. C. Potts; Fifth Ward, W. H. Morrison; Sixth Ward, Frank Barron; Seventh Ward, J. B. Latane; Murray Township, Joseph O. McEwan; Eden Township, H. E. Brainerd; Washington Township, S. C. Archibald; Brooklyn Township, J. H. W. Rogers; Oakdale Township, J. D. Harton.

The meeting was called to order by A. H. Breed, the chairman.

There were in attendance, Committee-men Morrison, Br. Ed., Randolph, Potts, Crowell, Barron, Brainerd, Archibald, Br. Latane, Rogers.

Secretary Riley read the call for the meeting to make preliminary arrangements for the forthcoming Republican County Convention.

The Secretary also read the call of the Republican State Convention to be held in Santa Cruz, August 18th, the delegates to which it set forth were to be elected at the Supervisors' meeting. No proxies were given to the convention.

Frank Barron said he had no wish in the matter, but if the District Attorney had advised that nothing be done at the present, he was willing to learn on what that opinion was based.

Mr. Nisbett explained the general idea of the election of delegates.

Mr. Nisbett said that the County Committee could arbitrarily combine its members, not to exceed three in number, and the committee would then nominate the election of delegates.

Mr. Nisbett said that the committee could regard no delegation.

Archibald asked if the law did not say that proxies should not exceed more than 200 voters.

Mr. Nisbett said that that was in the state law. With that the committee had nothing to do. That was a matter for the Supervisors to attend to. If a district supervisor were to give his proxy to the county, he could not be allowed to be a delegate.

Under this call Secretary Riley said that the county would be entitled to 55 delegates to the Convention, who were to be apportioned among the Assembly districts of the county.

Chairman Breed asked about the local convention.

Secretary Riley said that the drawing up of a call for the convention had been left to Judge Nisbett, who, however, was not on hand.

The question, Mr. Riley continued, was whether the delegates were to be elected by the county, or by the districts, or by proxies.

Mr. Nisbett said that the Supervisors could not make the election of delegates to the convention.

Mr. Archibald wanted to know what right people in Eden had to vote for the nomination of a Supervisor in Washington district with whom they had nothing to do.

Both were in the same Assembly district.

Mr. Archibald asked if the law intended that proxies should be valid.

Mr. Nisbett said that the law intended that the proxies be held by proxies.

Mr. Riley moved as a substitute that the proxies be held by proxies.

Mr. Morrison said that the last County Convention contained 200 delegates.

Mr. Morrison said there were to be only two county offices nominated and the whole of the county.

Chairman Crowell moved that the apportionment be one delegate for every five votes or majority fraction thereof. This motion was seconded by Mr. Morrison and was carried unanimous.

Mr. Nisbett moved that the delegates be selected according to words, there were no proxies in his district.

Mr. Crowell moved it was the election proxies that he intended to be valid.

Mr. Morrison said that the proxies were to be held by proxies.

POND'S EXTRACT

has been used over half a century. So much for its merit. It is refreshing and invigorating when used in the toilet or after shaving, and, as a remedy, it controls all pain, bleeding and inflammation. May be freely used internally and externally.

CAUTION.—Witch Hazel is NOT Pond's Extract, and cannot be used for it. Ordinary Witch Hazel is sold in bulk, diluted, easily turns sour and generally contains "wood alcohol," which is an irritant externally, and, taken internally, is a deadly poison. Pond's Extract is sold ONLY IN SEALED bottles, enclosed in buff wrapper.

FIRE ENGINES TO BE TESTED ON THURSDAY.

Council Is Asked to Extend the Time of the Contract.

The New Well at Roberts' Landing to Be Inspected.

The Board of Public Works met last evening, but the meeting was devoid of a warm interchange of views, as anticipated, between the Mayor and the representatives of the manufacturers of the two new fire engines which are now awaiting inspection by the Board.

In fact, there was no discussion of the subject. Messrs. Snow and Clement were in attendance. Mr. Dow was absent. The following was introduced by Mayor

"Resolved, That this Board recommends that the time within which the child-class steam fire engines contracted for with the American Fire Engine Company and the Manchester Locomotive Works under date of January 25, 1900, be extended to July 25, 1900, and the time mentioned in the contract with the said American Fire Engine Company and the Manchester Locomotive Works, without which the same shall be completed, be extended to July 25, 1900."

The resolution was referred to the City Council.

Mayor Snow stated, in private, that the date for which the extension has been requested reaches the limit of ninety days allowed by the terms of the charter.

Such an extension was not, from the Council's point of view, granted.

At the bottom of the table had taken almost to dead stock. On the return trip the guards were sent up the river toward the Tungtung Gouks, to see that no bodies had been washed down the stream. They found the water maintained constantly by the soldiers. Many of the forty-seven bodies found during the first day's search rose to the surface of the water between the long lines of passing boats, which were now only half the number of the long-boat piers.

The other bodies were dragged from the mud at the bottom of the river, some near the bulkheads and some nearer the river ends of the piers. Scores of men placed about the boats, with any remains were dropped into the water, with a grapple iron or rope, and then the boats were driven along with long poles.

Some of the boats would come to shore with two and sometimes three bodies.

This was especially true of those who were at work down toward the Tungtung piers. Men were seen working at the Tungtung piers to wash for any bodies that might float down the stream and be carried toward the bay. The searchers for bodies were volunteer workers, mostly Chinese, who had been thrown out of employment by the burning of the piers and ships on Saturday. They proceeded the search without promise of reward, eager to recover the bodies of their associates who had perished.

On the piers, the searchers, on the training ship Perseverance, to the north of the Valencia Club's boathouse, saw the body of a woman floating in the river and made attempts to recover it, but trace of it was lost while they were lowering a boat.

A grocer named Rohrigen, 52 years old, of Brooklyn, went to Hoboken with the idea of identifying a friend. He viewed several bodies in the morgue and soon after dropped dead.

Supervising General Inspector of the steamship inspecting service, Washington, D. C., has forwarded a letter to the local inspectors in this city directing that an investigation be begun at once.

Mr. Dandy, the captain of the tug-boat Dandy, referred to in the news, the steamship Benam, because they had no money. In his letter the Supervisor Inspector said:

"While it seems almost incredible that any officer could be guilty of such a charge as an attempt to fix the blame of the disaster, yet the charge is circumstantial in his statement that your officers should take immediate notice of it, so that if any misconduct may be proved, the officers of your fleet, authority under Section 404, R. P. C., on the contrary, the charge is not sustained, that the master of the Dandy may be officially exonerated before the public."

SEARCHING FOR FIRE'S VICTIMS. THE EMPRESS IS DETHRONED.

Vigilant Watch Kept
Near the Burned Piers.

NEW YORK, July 3.—After dark last night the boats of the searchers for bodies in the vicinity of the burned North German Lloyd piers, which were crowded with bodies, littered and scattered about, and the fire at work was doubtless, that no bodies might escape up or down the river. The burning of the tide is the time when bodies are started from the boats of the piers, and the searchers. The bodies began to appear, however, from time when the tide began to run out, and they continued to rise until the tide had fallen almost to dead stock. On the return trip the guards were sent up the river toward the Tungtung Gouks, to see that no bodies had been washed down the stream. They found the water maintained constantly by the soldiers. Many of the forty-seven bodies found during the first day's search rose to the surface of the water between the long lines of passing boats, which were now only half the number of the long-boat piers.

GUARD AGAINST FIRE!

During the thirty-six hours commanding at sundown tonight the dangers from fire will be trifled, and in accordance with its annual custom, THE TRIBUNE calls attention to the necessity of making special preparations to guard against such disasters. The American small boy refuses to permit the Fourth of July to pass by without a noisy demonstration of firecrackers, anvils and toy pistols, and though we admire the patriotism that prompts his enthusiasm, at the same time we deplore his methods. As there is no way out of it, though, the next best thing is to minimize the danger as much as possible, and this can be done by following a few simple rules.

The Fourth of July should not be permitted to pass without some formal demonstration to keep alive the memories of the events and principles which it commemorates. At no time since the Nation was formed have the American people had more cause to celebrate the national birthday with pride and grandeur than this year. Our domestic difficulties have all been conquered and the scars of civil conflict completely healed. We are united, rich and powerful, and lead the van of progress. We have just freed Cuba from Old World despotism and are now carrying the blessings of civil liberty to the isles of the Pacific. Our sailors and soldiers are victorious on sea and land, and the attitude of the Old World towards us has changed from one of condescension to one of respectful consideration. The international calendar can't go on without Miss Columbia and Uncle Sam, in the slang of the vulgar, are "strictly in it."

We ought to rejoice in all this. If other places are recreant we are glad to see Pleasanton to the fore. It is gratifying that there is at least one town in Alameda county possessing the enterprise and patriotic spirit to properly celebrate the glorious Fourth. All is not lost so long as we have Pleasanton. May the grass never grow in her streets to keep green the memory of Independence Day, and may fair prosperity come to her with the years, but never stifle her patriotic ardor. Seriously, the example of Pleasanton ought to make the other towns of this county ashamed of themselves.

A DEMOCRATIC PARADE.

Before another issue of THE TRIBUNE is printed the Democratic National Convention will be in full blast at Kansas City and the victory of Bryan—such as it is—will be complete. That he has the gathering at his mercy has long been evidenced in the most convincing manner, for though in the early stages of the anti-convention campaign other candidates have appeared, one by one their names have receded beneath his influence, even the popular war hero, George Dewey, failing to get a hearing on the platform. The Democratic party is the strongest in the country, but the working of a plan on the part of the Democratic leaders to send him to slaughter. They realize that even if they could succeed in defeating him for the nomination this time, he would retain a commanding influence in the party, so, as there is not the slightest chance that the Democratic nominee, who ever he may be, can be elected this year, what more natural than that they should all shout for Bryan so that he can be conveniently put out of the way next November? It stands to reason that if Bryan defected again, and by a larger majority than in 1896, he would not be accorded the nomination again, for the claim could be justly made that his rejection was personal on the part of the voters. This would therefore leave the way clear for Gorman, Hill, Whitney or whoever else may be nursing presidential ambitions, so there is more method in the present Democratic madness than might at first be noticed.

A convincing sign of what the shrewd men of the country think of the situation is contained in that reliable barometer, the stock market. Four years ago when Bryan was on the eve of being nominated industrial stocks fell from 10 to 15 points. This year they show no variations whatever, save the customary fluctuations of the market. One does not have to look to the wall to find the "Aenea Mene Teak" of the Democratic Babylon; its desolation is told in a thousand ways long before the first trumpet that means actual attack is sounded.

THE GLORIOUS FOURTH.

The American eagle is all ready for its annual screech of liberty, and tomorrow promises to witness one of the most glorious fourths on record. From one end of the country to the other arrangements for celebrating the day have been in progress for weeks, and the Declaration of Independence, Drake's Address to the American Flag, and other such patriotic utterances will in a few hours be resounding throughout the land, while orators, with "eyes in the frenzy rolling," will engage in the usual pyrotechnic outbursts with the object of assuring audiences already absolutely satisfied in that respect that the United States is the greatest country the sun ever shone upon.

All of which is very sentimental, perhaps, but at the same time well justified. The annuals of the world can show no other record like the one we possess, for in the 121 years of our history we have evolved from a mere handful of settlers scattered along a thousand miles of seaboard to a mighty race numbering seven-and-a-half millions of people and in actual possession of over 3,300,000 square miles of territory exclusive of our foreign possessions. Our resources, natural and official, are greater than those of any other part of the globe, our people are more enterprising, our wealth greater, our social conditions better, our independence the most complete, our manufactured products of the best grade, our exports larger, our progress more certain and our prospects the best of all creation. Why shouldn't we shout, therefore, and pat ourselves on the back with the satisfaction of being the finest and greatest people in existence?

For late years, too, we have had more reason than ever to celebrate. Our flag has been carried to victory in other lands and our warships have earned for us the respect of the whole world, as can be seen by the respectful tone assumed by the blazing liners, avid for salvage, at a set of human wrecks with whom an Apache would consider it degrading to associate. According to these stories the tugmen not only refuse to heed the pitiful appeals for help from the agonized victims of the terrible holocaust, but in many instances actually demanded money from them at the price of rescue, and though it was not forthcoming left the hapless victims to their fate.

When the brutal crew of the French liner La Bourgogne saved themselves at the expense of the women and children entrusted to their care they earned the execration and contempt of mankind. But the New York ghouls have sinned at a still lower depth of infamy. The French sailors had at least the poor excuse that they were frenzied with terror, but the heartless tugmen deliberately left men to die whom they could have saved at no risk to themselves, simply because they had no money or were unable to produce it. It is a pity that some way cannot be found to punish these libels on humanity as they deserve.

The Democrats are claiming that Bryan will get the German vote. What—with the name of Roosevelt on the Republican ticket. Oh, no!

PATRIOTIC PLEASANTON.

The citizens of Pleasanton are to be congratulated on having the enterprise to get up the only Fourth of July celebration in Alameda county this year. It is a manifestation of the right spirit on the part of our patriotic neighbor. We trust the celebration will exceed all expectations. It certainly ought to be a pronounced success.

The Fourth of July should not be permitted to pass without some formal demonstration to keep alive the memories of the events and principles which it commemorates. At no time since the Nation was formed have the American people had more cause to celebrate the national birthday with pride and grandeur than this year. Our domestic difficulties have all been conquered and the scars of civil conflict completely healed. We are united, rich and powerful, and lead the van of progress. Seriously, the example of Pleasanton ought to make the other towns of this county ashamed of themselves.

The beach paid well for a time, but nothing like what was expected. It is now worked out. A little beach digging is going on, but no one is making over $5 per day. If the money taken out was averaged among the men at work it would not be over $1 to each man." That is the latest news sent down from Nome by a private but presumably reliable source. To those who may still be figuring on joining in the rush it looks as if the best advice under the circumstances is—don't.

Judgment by Default.

The Central Pacific Company has been given judgment by default against the California Railway Company. The suit was brought to quiet title to two and one-half acres of land on Fulton avenue, Frutvale.

Will Erect Business Block.

Property on the southeast corner of Eleventh street and San Pablo avenue has been sold by Frances B. White to James M. Driscoll, the consideration being about $10,000. A three-story business block will be erected on the property.

Foreclosure Suit.

Elizabeth A. and Arthur Rodgers have commenced suit against T. E. Pope and wife to foreclose a mortgage of $16,77 on property in East Oakland.

A roof making establishment is to be located on land recently wrested from the marsh at the west end of town. Oakland can then lay claim to a roof garden, as it were.

Four years ago when Bryan was on the eve of being nominated industrial stocks fell from 10 to 15 points. This year they show no variations whatever, save the customary fluctuations of the market.
